ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. GUTTENBURG RACE TRACE, Nov. 22 - There was not a very large crowd at Guttenburg con sidering the fine weather and the excellent programme. The ladies were out in force owever, and they imparted an air of tone to the surroundings.

The first race as usual contained an air tigh cinch in Capulin, and he was pounded all over the ring at even money and below that price. Ballston, with Lambly up, was backed by that boy's followers, and was a strong second choice. Some shrewd speculators played Facial B. to run third, while Flambeau was

The cinch came off in good style. Jone let him rate along third until the stretch was reached, where he sent him out, and he won handliy by a length and a half from Ballston, while the shrewd ones-got their third money

Servitor was made favorite for the second race, notwithstanding he was giving away lumps of weight to some very good onest. Farolina, Evangeline and Claudine were the most fancied of the others. Some money west on Calcium, a nitherito upknown quality.

The winner turned up in Evangeline, who gottane best of the start and won nandily.

The taient decided in the third race that Periales ougat to win, and accordingly he was made a big favorite. Pall Mail was second castice, being played by Lambley's followers, and Cornelia and Persuader were third choices. Jackstaff was played to win the third money on his Western Jarm. The race resulted in a cracking finish between Jackstaff and Corne-lis, the pair making a doad heat of H. Owing to the fact that the racing was a sell-

Facial R. was first away, closely followed by Ballston and Capulin. Lambley sent Sallston out before a furlong was run, and showed the way around the turn, closely followed by Facial B, and Capulin.

Hallston held his lead until into the stretch. There Jones sent Capulin out, and he quickly
